press kit updated november 2026

tyler allred

in one line

Singer-songwriter. Michigan, then Los Angeles.

bio

Tyler Allred started writing songs in elementary school and picked up a guitar at twelve or thirteen. He came up in Michigan and later relocated to Los Angeles, where he met the people who helped him start getting his songs out.

His 2024 EP, 33 Days & a Wake Up, shows where his sound is now. In the words of his own notes it is “bold but can be delicate”: a record that puts him out there with no walls built around him. It was recorded at Sunset Sound in Los Angeles. He is working on a new album.

the song

Anxious Anyway

The song came from a dream. Tyler was recording the EP, stuck in writer's block and one song short, when he woke up one morning with the opening line in his head. He picked up his guitar and the song came together.

He says he is not great at assigning meaning to his own songs. His best guess is that this one is about anxiety, O.C.D. and having someone who can level him out.

releases

2024	33 Days & a Wake Up EP, four songs: Kind of Nervous (Seen This Trick Before), Expectations, It Might Be Fun, Anxious Anyway. Cover art by Spencer Robens.
2024	Anxious Anyway single
2023	It Might Be Fun single
2023	Do or Die single
2021	Easy single
2021	Often single
2020	Get Well Soon single
2019	Everything Is Fine EP, four songs

press

2026	The Sounds Won’t Stop	interview and review
2024	BuzzMusic	interview, and a write-up of the Anxious Anyway video: “it portrays those anxious thoughts he sings of perfectly”

photos

Photo: Tales of Camera and Pen

Photo: Tales of Camera and Pen

From Tyler’s press kit

listen & follow

open.spotify.com/artist/2QXPR6XeduBU3eRzJZH6ht · instagram.com/tylerallredmusic · linktr.ee/TylerAllredMusic

contact

tylerallred33@gmail.com

Press, booking and interviews. Tyler is available for interviews on request.